4-H FAIR

FREEHOLD RACEWAY

JULY 19, 20, 21

DR. LELAND G. MERRILL, JR.

Dean of the College of Agriculture and Director of the Experiment Station . . . Rutgers, the State University.

Welcome to the Monmouth County 4-H Fair. This Fair is but one aspect of your 4-H Club program which offers education through practical experience, as well as a fine social outlet for the boys and girls of the county, in common with their contemporaries throughout the state. 4-H work, a cooperative county-Rutgers program, in turn, is but one phase of the manifold educational activities of your state University.

May I call your attention to the fact that this year we are observing the centennials of the Land Grant Colleges and of the United States Department of Agriculture. The programs of these two great organizations have transformed American agriculture and freed the vast majority of our working force to produce goods other than food and fibre, thereby making possible the prosperity we enjoy in this country today and the urban and suburban living such as you have in Monmouth county.

In closing, I might add that Rutgers is nearing the end of its second century of existence as an institution of higher learning. It is the only Colonial College which is also a Land-Grant college and a State University. With the the continued support of the citizens of New Jersey, we at Rutgers look forward to a future in which this proud institution can render you even greater service than it has in the past.

I hope you'll enjoy the Fair.

Sincerely,

Leland G. Merrill, Jr.

Welcome To The

1962

MONMOUTH COUNTY 4-H FAIR

July 19, 20, 21 — Freehold Raceway

Welcome to the 16th Annual Monmouth County 4-H Fair. It is a free Fair with no entry fees or set admission charges.

Exhibits, contests, and activities that you will see represent the culmination of a year's work by over 600 club members.

We hope you will enjoy the Fair, meet the 4-H Queen, see the livestock shows, fashion Revue, along with many other activities and events.

To all the folks and business concerns who helped make our 4-H Program a success, we, the 4-H Leaders Association, 4-H Council, and 4-H members extend our humble thanks.

Why a 4-H Fair?

The primary purpose of the Monmouth County 4-H Fair is to give our boys and girls an opportunity to exhibit items which they have made, reared, or grown as a part of their 4-H project work.

These exhibits are evaluated by competent experts in their respective fields and appropriate ratings given to each article. The blue, red, yellow, or white ribbons indicate to the club member how good a job he or she has done with his particular project. This is our way of indicating to the club member how improvements can be made and at the same time rewarding them for a job well done.

While it's nice for a club member to receive a blue ribbon - "excellent", it is more important that club members participate in the 4-H Fair and have their articles evaluated so that they might improve and become more proficient in their skills in home making, agriculture and crafts.

4-H Judging Methods

In 4-H Club work, all articles are judged by the Danish system - that is, judging to a standard. In this way, all items if scored between 90 and 100 points according to the standard for the particular article, it rates "excellent". Those rating between 80 and 89 a "very good". Those between 70 and 79 a "good", and those from 60 to 69 a "fair". Unworthy exhibits are disqualified.

What Is The 4-H Organization?

4-H Club work is the largest organization of boys and girls in America. There are nearly two and a half million 4-H members who belong to more than 94,200 local clubs. In Monmouth County there are over 600 members belonging to 40 clubs. More than 21,000,000 young people have taken part in this "learn by doing" program and have subscribed to the National 4-H motto, "to make the best better."

4-H Clubs are the official youth program of the Cooperative Extension Service of Rutgers, The State University. This program is financed jointly by federal, state, and county governments. On the county level the program is supervised by one or more 4-H Club agents. Adult volunteer leaders serve as advisors and instructors for each local 4-H Club.

What Is a 4-H Club — What Does a 4-H Club Do?

A 4-H Club is an organized group of five or more boys and/or girls, 10 to 21 years of age, who are interested in improving themselves, their homes, and their communities through educational and recreational projects. A 4-H Club emphasizes training for service through the use of Head, Heart, Hands, and Health.

The members elect their own officers; develop a club program; hold regular meetings, using parliamentary procedure; and learn to function democratically. Educational programs and recreation are important phases of 4-H meetings.

Who May Become a 4-H Member?

Any girls or boy between the ages of 10 and 21 may become a 4-H member. A member must attend club meetings regularly, complete at least one 4-H project, keep project records, learn to give demonstrations, and exhibit their results at county or local shows. Members must finance their own projects. Faithful club meeting attendance and good project work are extremely important for a successful 4-H career.

Who Are 4-H Leaders?

4-H Club leaders are men and women who volunteer their time in the interest of helping boys and girls. Adult leaders receive training in 4-H organization and subject matter. Training meetings are conducted by the county 4-H agents and specialists from Rutgers University.

Each local 4-H Club has at least one organizational or key leader. Most clubs also have one or more assistant or project leaders.

What Is a 4-H Project?

The 4-H project is a challenge. Members choose one or more projects from 50 different subjects. Each project has a list of requirements which the members must satisfactorily complete in order to receive credit. Local leaders guide members in the selection of their projects.

Opportunities Offered to 4-H Members

4-H members learn to work and play together in a club group. They develop a real sense of values through their projects. Members receive practical training resulting in skill and knowledge which may help them in choosing a career. 4-H'ers learn to practice good citizenship, good sportsmanship, and are given an opportunity to develop their leadership talents.

4-H'ers may attend 4-H Camp at Stokes State Forest near Branchville, N. J. Outdoor living helps to broaden their experiences and develops and understanding of the forces of nature. A program of varied activities including crafts, conservation, boating, swimming, archery, firearms safety, sports, outdoor cookery, and a variety of evening programs is provided.

Teen-age boys and girls may serve as junior leaders and may become members of the 4-H Council. Those who do excellent work are eligible for state contests and exhibits as well as trips and scholarships. All 4-H members are better equipped for adult life because of their project training and democratic club meetings.

How to Start a 4-H Club

The basic requirements for starting a 4-H Club is a minimum of five members and at least one responsible adult as the 4-H leader. It is preferable, however, to start with a larger group of members and with the sponsorship of a local organization such as a PTA, service club, etc. Small clubs usually meet in homes. Larger groups will need a school, municipal hall, or other public meeting place.

Complete details on starting a 4-H Club may be obtained by contacting the county 4-H office, 20 Court Street, Freehold, HO 2-1940 Ext. 6.

4-H YOUTH COUNCIL ACTIVITIES

4-H Council members (16) from Onondaga County, N. Y., about to depart after returning an exchange visit with Monmouth County Council members. An exchange of ideas and seeing how 4-H works in other parts of the country was the main purpose of the exchange visit. The program here during July included a visit to the shore, while Monmouth County members took advantage of winter sports in February at Syracuse.

Here we see the vocal chorus singing out during a Minstrel put on by the joint Monmouth and Burlington County 4-H Councils.

Most members look forward to the day they might join the 4-H Youth Council. First comes initiation - and most of them enjoy this after it's over, of course.

Dances are sponsored by the 4-H Council throughout the year which helps bring clubs and members together for fun and fellowship.

A 4-H Float planned and constructed by 4-H Council members is one of many ways they help promote the 4-H program. This particular float is disappearing down Main Street during the Memorial Day Parade in Freehold.

4-H CAMP IS FUN

Each year 4-H members have the opportunity to attend the State 4-H Camp for one week. At camp, club members learn to swim, take part in sports and games, as well as attend classes on electrical meters, nature, handicrafts, safety with firearms, boating and canoeing, and many others.

They sleep in a cabin with 16 other campers and 2 counselors; belong to an Indian tribe and take part in tribal sports and campfire ceremonies; lots of singing, square dancing, hikes, a water carnival - and good food in the camp dining hall. Best of all, they make new friends with 4-H'ers from other sections of New Jersey

Camp enrollments are due May 1, and the fee is $20.

The water's fine! At 4-H Camp located in Stokes State Forest where swimming instruction and aquatic sports are held for both beginners and advanced swimmers - under the watchful eye of the waterfront directors.

Campers gather for flag ceremonies each morning and evening in front of the camp dining hall.

Archery is always a popular camp class and activity. Club members learn the proper use of the bow and arrow with skill and safety.

A class in rifle safety and marksmanship. 4-H members who are interested are taught how to shoot properly and safely and also have the opportunity to shoot clay pigeons on the final day.

In the electrical class a camper gets expert instruction from Art Lee, of Jersey Central Power & Light Co. Members learn how electricity works and they may actually make and take home useful home appliances.

DEMONSTRATION CONTEST, APRIL, 1963

All currently enrolled members may give a demonstration, team or individual, on a subject that is related to a project they are taking. They will be judged on their subject matter, presentation, organization, and personal appearance. The finished product will be all-important in this "show and tell how" experience.

All members who are 14 years of age by January 1 of the current year will be eligible for the State Demonstration Contest held at Rutgers University if they are chosen the top of the "excellent award" group in county competition.

All members taking part in the County Demonstration Contest will be treated to a college football game in the Fall at the Rutgers University, New Brunswick, sponsored by the Freehold Kiwanis Club.

Frontier Boys club member demonstrates the importance of planning a home garden in advance and following recommended practices throughout the growing season.

Sunshine Girls club member puts the finishing touches on unique cut-up-cake arrangement. The audience eagerly awaited samples at the conclusion of her demonstration.

No pain - club member of the 4-H Rough Riders isn't playing doctor. She is showing "how to prepare a horse for riding in a horse trailer" as part of her 4-H demonstration at the county contest.

Lindcroft club boys show how to pin and spread insects when making an insect collection. They are studying the importance of harmful and beneficial insects as part of their 4-H Entomology project.

Dairy club members team up to demonstrate how to prepare a dairy animal for the show ring. You will see them in action at the 4-H Fair.

COUNTY 4-H FASHION REVUE

All girls enrolled in the clothing project are encouraged to take part in the County Fashion Revue held at the 4-H Fair each year.

A practice session is held to acquaint the girls with the script and how to model on the 4-H stage. Each girl must register with the 4-H office and attend the practice session. Garments should be modeled with complete accessories. Only those who model will be eligible for the State 4-H Fashion Revue. A special award will be presented to the County 4-H Fashion Revue winner during Awards Night at the Fair.

CHICKEN BARBECUE

Saturday, July 21, 5:00 - 8:00 p.m.

A very attractive feature is being staged again this year at the Monmouth County 4-H Fair. The Freehold Jaycees will put on another one of their famous chicken barbeques.

The delicious flavor of barbecued chicken, along with the fun and informality with which it is served will provide a treat that you will not wish to miss. Every member of the family can enjoy this unusual meal. So don't figure on eating at home that evening. Spare "Mom" the preparation of a dinner in her own kitchen. Bring her and all your folks, along with their appetites and share in the enjoyment of this feature at the Fair. Tickets may be obtained from Jaycee members or anytime during the 3-day Fair at the Information Booth.

4-H Leaders are the backbone of the 4-H Program. Mrs. Ralph Hanson, Tennent, instructing a group of girls in her club on sewing techniques, is one of the many throughout the county that volunteer their time and efforts for the benefit of our youth.

Each year deserving club members are awarded certificates of merit for progressive achievement in citizenship by Monmouth Pomona Grange No. 12. Recipients this year are: left to right, Sandra Cohen, Toni Ann Ercolino, Glen Gerken, Barbara Puchinskas, Sharon Stewart, Richard Fields, John Thompson, Shirley Kahlert, Bruce Smith, Ann Zdancewic, Sue Purvis, Alice Dudley, and Arthur Zdancewic.

Sally Kaul, 10, Colts Neck, demonstrates the proper care of the saddle. This is her first year as a member of the 4-H Vaqueros Club.

Evidently, the unidentified boy doesn't care too much for picture taking with serious business at hand - Fat Lamb Show.

Dendrology? Cheryl Kerwin, left, and Carolyn Cahill of Hazlet, test their talents in the field of dendrology (tree study) at the State 4-H Tree Identification Contest, held at Rutgers University. Showing some tricks of the trade is Professor Dick Lentz, Specialist in Farm Forestry at Rutgers University.

Egg Grading Champ - Henry Daum of Englishtown, was named one of two top egg graders at the State 4-H Poultry Judging Contest. At the N.E.P. P.C.O. Exposition at Harrisburg, Pa. he had the second high individual egg grading score competing with 32 contestants from 12 states.
